Electronic Voter Registration in California: New Opportunities, Emerging Issues

February 25, 2016
Key Recommendations for Implementation of Electronic Voter Registration in California

System Design and Accessibility:

- Registrants should have the ability to directly enter information into the registration system, and review and confirm its accuracy.

- Process should at minimum comply with federal requirements regarding language assistance in the electoral process; registrants should be able to indicate their preferences regarding language assistance and election materials.

- Agency computer interfaces should at the minimum adapt features built into California’s online voter registration portal for accessibility to persons with disabilities.

- DMV and SOS should consult with advocates and community stakeholders when implementing EVR, including the statewide VAAC and LAAC.
Key Recommendations for Implementation of Electronic Voter Registration in California

Agency Implementation:

• Agency employees should receive thorough training on registration procedures, new technological capabilities and interfaces, and adaptations for customers who need language assistance and customers

• DMV and SOS should conduct outreach regarding EVR and the increased ease of registering through the DMV, and, eventually, other state agencies that adopt electronic registration.

• EVR should be fully integrated into operations of all appropriate state and local NVRA agencies.
Emerging Issues in Electronic Voter Registration Implementation at DMV

- Reliance on paper forms for voter registration
- Clarity of language on DL 44 regarding attestation and voter registration
- Need for registrant to visit second location in DMV office for touchscreen information entry; impact on collection of voter language preferences and political party
- Clarity and format of touchscreen interface
- Accessibility of foregoing to persons with disabilities
- Training that will be provided to DMV personnel
- Plans for SOS and DMV outreach and education on new system

Differences Between “New Motor Voter” and Oregon “Automatic” Registration

- CA requires a person to attest that they are eligible to vote at the DMV before they can be registered.

- CA will offer the attestation and any other voter registration questions in 10 languages.

- CA will give a person the chance to decline voter registration at the DMV.

- CA’s law offers some protection against any state law penalties should someone inadvertently register to vote or mistakenly vote as a result of their DMV transaction. (Note: These state law protections may mitigate the potential federal immigration consequences for persons who inadvertently register to vote, but may not offer full protection.)
